Descriptor	OVERVIEW: an easy loop run that adds a very short climb to the Buller summit for big views. RUN IT: Beginning from the centre of the village in front of the clock tower, run up Athlete’s Walk, past Foodworks and later the Abom hotel and onto Summit Road. Continue up until you see the Arlberg Hotel on your left. To your right there is a pathway that leads to a wooden shelter. Get off that boring bitumen and hit the dirt trails. The trail sweeps around the northern flank of Baldy Summit, skirting above the Northside Discovery Centre (the trail hooks left just prior to reaching it, crossing a road) and Burnt Hut Reservoir before continuing on a slight, runnable incline and nice smooth trails towards the summit car park. There are some good vistas across the ranges including to Razorback Spur on a clear day. Hitting the Summit Car Park, look for the summit signs on an out and back run to the high peak of Mount Buller (1805m). Here you will take in more high alps views in all directions. From here it’s a downhill run all the way home. At the Summit Car Park, veer right to run along the southern side of Baldy, following the single trail (careful not to accidentally take one of the many criss-crossing trails heading down!). You will run on some mildly technical singletrack, crossing a dirt road below the Koflers building before running below a dam. This is a fun little section that gently descends as it winds across the southern face of Baldy. The Summit Nature Walk Trail will then spit you out near Skyline, opposite the Arlberg Hotel. Make your way behind the hotel to once again pick up the Summit Road (or you could run down the Bourke Street ski run - be wary of drainage ditches) before picking up Athlete’s Walk and the final dash into the Village Centre.
